

Women Workers For Shell Plants Said Vital Need

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Defence Minister McNaughton announced last night that Canadian women would be called upon to take the place of men in the shell filling and assembling plants of Canada's war industries.

"Much of the work in the filling and assembly plants, and even in the factories where the shells are produced, can and must be done by women. They handle the delicate gear with great precision and they have a natural aptitude for many of the operations. We must admit that in this they are superior to us."

NEED MORE WOMEN

"So what now is required is that more women workers be recruited to undertake this vital work and I appeal to all who can to do so. To those who do I would suggest that they take the utmost satisfaction in the work they do and its contribution to saving the lives of our men."

Leading up to his appeal for more women workers, Mr. McNaughton said that the Allies now have come up against formidable lines of great guns and shells and aviation equipment in both Italy and northern Europe, and that they are now with "every obstacle and device" to hamper the Allied advance.

"Most lines of resistance must turn to the practice of siege warfare of the most intense character and have all else we must have guns and shells and aviation equipment," he continued.

IMPORTANCE STRESSED

"I have spoken in many of our munitions plants to bring the importance of this matter to the attention of the workers engaged in this task, to ask them to increase their efforts on behalf of our men overseas, to ask them to do their best, to volunteer their services to increase the number engaged."

"I feel the importance of this matter so keenly that I will not permit any occasion to pass without telling it constantly before the eyes of the people of Canada. And I have faith in the women of this country who know and recognize a need they will see that the proper answer is given."

Farmer Is Arrested On Leaving Court

Steve Runak, Wheat Creek district farmer, was taken into custody Tuesday morning by RCMP when he left the court room after the dismissal of his appeal against conviction and sentence on a perjury charge.

Runak had been sentenced by Mr. Justice C. McLean to serve one year in jail on a perjury charge arising out of evidence given in a preliminary hearing of the one year sentence imposed on Runak by Mr. Justice McLean.

An appeal brought by George Andrusiak, also of Wheat Creek, was allowed on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to establish the perjury. The conviction and one year sentence was ordered quashed.

First War Draft Said Not Failure

MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Senator C. C. Balfour, Progressive-Conservative leader in the Senate, said in a statement today that Defence Minister McNaughton was "totally incorrect" in saying at Angers, Ont., Sunday night that conscription had failed in the First Great War.

"The General must know that resulting conscription was the key in the last war towards the end of '16 and the beginning of '17," said Senator Balfour, who was minister of marine fisheries and naval affairs in the Union government of Sir Robert Borden in 1917.

"The government of Sir Robert Borden was faced with a situation similar to what exists today—either conscription, or defeat, and fail to reinforce our brave lads who were sent to the front."

U.S. Election Is Piling Up Record Vote

Nov. 6 and Dewey, 4, in 1940 the town gave Roosevelt 5 and Willie 3.

New Ashford, Mass., gave Dewey 2 and Roosevelt 1, in 1940 the town gave Willie 3 and Roosevelt 1.

War plant workers were first to the polls in most large cities. They were lined up before voting booths opened at 8 a.m. (EWT) in New York and other places.

As the day progressed, however, voters joined the stream. By 10 a.m. the lines were long and the queues outnumbered men five to one in many precincts in New York.

At that time had an estimated 50,000 votes out of a total registration of 1,127,023.

GREATER VOTE

The noon total in industrialized Detroit was estimated at 212,000, about 20,000 more than had been cast at that hour in 1940.

Fair weather over most of the country also was bringing out a heavy rural vote.

The campaign finally ended last night with reports for all eligible cities to go to the polls today. Candidates are expected to announce the results of the election.

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Incomplete unofficial returns from 78 of the 127 precincts in Kansas give for President: Dewey 1,024, Roosevelt 1,007. The returns are from the larger towns of the state, where watchers for the candidates are posted.

WASHINGTON, N.J., Nov. 7.—(AP)—The first 200 absentee ballots counted for Hudson County gave President Roosevelt 120 votes to 100 for Dewey and 10 for the county's total vote was 10,203 for Roosevelt and 7,386 for Dewey.

Justice Minister Claims 'Disaster' In Ralston's Plan

QUEBEC, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Justice Minister St. Laurent said in an address tonight that the plan of Ralston, N.S., to build a dam on the St. Lawrence river, would be a disaster for national unity and consequently the "Col. Laflamme is nevertheless a great admirer for him."

By any means, thousands were sent over and our army corps, 80,000 strong, from the British district and all other units were kept fully up to strength until the last shot.

A PATRIARCH Henry Ripper, 81, is the patriarch of his community, and represents the National War Finance Committee there. Contrary to procedure in a community in Canada, he is not "accepted" contributions to buy a house and his home and no canvaing it.

In the Sixth Loan 30 bonds were sold for $20,000, with every family in the group subscribing. During the war a similar procedure is being followed.

The Sooner the Better

The taxpayers of the city will hope Mayor Fry meant rather more than he said when he announced that refunding the balance of Edmonton's 1943-44 debt "probably" will be completed in 1945. Finally, the refunding job should be one of the things definitely on the program for the coming year.

Roughly, about one-third of the debt remains to be put through the refinancing process in order to reduce the interest charges. Plans, if approved, are under way to accomplish this task in the coming year. There is a hint in the qualifying word "probably" that the city council may have to take a firm stand on the matter if this most desirable end is to be attained.

If so, there should be no lack of resolution on the part of the council. The members of council have the returns from last week's election to thank them for their approval of the progress that has already been made in debt-refunding. The returns are equally a mandate to wind up the whole operation with the least possible loss of time.

Just a Little Patience

Complaints are heard in Edmonton, as well as in other parts of the country, about the limited stock of children's clothing available in retail stores. Even the fact that this is not the fault of retailers nor of wholesalers, but is due to the fact that adequate stocks simply are not on hand.

There is no reason to believe, however, that this shortage, particularly in underwear and shoes, is being alleviated. Every effort is being made to increase these stocks.

The effort, however, is being undertaken under great difficulties. There is no serious wool shortage although cotton is low. Leather, too, is scarce, but because every serviceman requires four pairs of boots in the first year of service and repairs to these boots consume much leather also.

The chief difficulty is with skilled labor and transportation.

These articles, however, are being made. And they will be distributed as rapidly as possible.

A Better Pension Plan

Hon. Brooke Claxton, minister of the new Dominion department of health and welfare, announces that plans are being prepared for a nation-wide contributory pension scheme of equal taxation and without limitation as to income.

It can be taken for granted that the scheme will be welcomed by the great mass of the Canadian population. The contributory pension plan is a subject of personal security. The best that can be said for it is that it is better than nothing.

The new scheme should replace the old one entirely. That is, it should apply to those who are now receiving pensions, and to all others who are now receiving contributory funds. To be just and fair the scheme will have to be contributory so far as these are concerned.

It is to be supposed these plans will be ready for submission to parliament at the coming session. The public will await them with keen interest, and very general approval of the purpose in view.

"In Being"

Montreal is now at one end of the longest single air-route operated in any part of the world. The other end is at Sydney, Australia. The route is operated by Canadian Pacific, flying by way of California, Honolulu, the Fiji Islands, and Auckland, New Zealand.

For the time the new service will be military in character, only military personnel and government-sponsored civilian passengers being carried. Operation will be regular, and "several" flights per week are to be made.

The immediate purpose of course is to facilitate travel of Canadians connected with the war in the Pacific. As daily flights are made between London and Montreal, the new service will offer a direct travel route between Britain and Australia and New Zealand, alternative to the present one by way of the Mediterranean and India.

Besides being directly connected with the Dominions "down under," Canada thus becomes the half-way house for air travel between the Old Lands and the Antipodes. The wartime ferry service proves satisfactory, it will no doubt be continued in peacetime on a commercial basis.

The Allies Get Their Port

It took the Canadian and co-operating British troops two months to clear the enemy out of the German-occupied waterway to the great Belgian port of Antwerp. It was a terrific fight, against water and mud as well as pickled enemy divisions, but the job has been done.

It is estimated that the engineers will need a month to clear the channel of vessels sunk there by the retreating enemy and to dredge the channel to a depth that will allow large cargo ships to sail up to the Antwerp docks. That indicates the importance which the Nazi commanders placed upon keeping Antwerp closed against the Allies. Any undertaking which army engineers need a month to carry through is "some" job.

Antwerp is the commercial centre of Belgium. It is 20 miles of drag off the sea as far back as 1926 handled nearly 25,000,000 tons of cargo in a year. The port is only 80 miles from the nearest point on the Atlantic coast. It is the German-occupied port which will shorten the communication lines of the Allied forces east to the Swiss boundary, by hundreds of miles.

Once again the Canadian troops have made good in their allotted task of bringing the channel ports into Allied control. In the present situation, and in the advance against Germany, Antwerp will be more than all the others together. Hereafter it is the Allies who will have the advantage of short and unobstructed supply lines.

Sir John Dill will be remembered as the chief of staff who directed the reconstruction of Britain's army after the tragedy of Dunkerque. Seven months after that event he was able to announce that the army was again an efficient military instrument. Hitler's chance to overrun England had gone forever.

At the end of the week British Columbia and Alberta received the provinces in Victory Loan subscriptions, having made up 87 per cent and 82 per cent of their quotas respectively. Perhaps because they were hard hit by the depression, the people of these provinces are showing that they know how to lay away some of their savings against another possible visitation.

A substantial bridge has been completed across the Black Mud creek, to allow the output of the White Star coal mines to reach the railway in the vicinity of the Black Mud creek. It was built by H. Paris.—The radical members of the cabinet have been ousted from the government by the Doumergue. Former Premier Herriot is one of the bolters.

The worst dust storm in the history of this district is under way.

A large flock of geese is reported at Lake Maclede, in the southern part of the province.

Then hear them from the heavens, even from the dusting place, their prayer and their supplication. Give them peace, O Lord, for they have sinned against thee. (Isaiah 63: 9).

Know all and you will pardon all.—Thomas A. Kempis.

As sure as it is that we are fighting today, there is that another war, more horrible than human imagination can ever visualize, will break out. Another war, more horrible than the one that Germany and the other aggressors are kept in a strict supervision and control.—Wilhelm Morgenstern.

Drew and Joffile make Speeches But Hebrun Is Silent

By J. H. GRAY

TORONTO.—Drew makes speeches, but Hebrun is silent. Hebrun says nothing, but from a random un-Gallian sampling of public opinion here the impression is that Hebrun is not interested in Mr. Hebrun's silence than in the other two.

Mr. Hebrun is clearly back in the centre of the Ontario political picture, and when he gets into it that spot other politicians get pushed into the shadows. His last at Premier Drew, Mr. Hebrun has said nothing. Yet most people in the province have talked politics—doormen, newspapermen, publicans, school-boys and sundry unclassified Ontarioans assume that Mr. Hebrun has become leader of the Liberal party and that, come the election, he will succeed Mr. Drew as premier.

To put your finger on the cause of Mr. Hebrun's silence, where it lies, is to find it in a—mercenary, timorous, inconsistent, outspoken, stubborn. His speech has always been a device to immediate issues that his opponent has put into the air, and with reason, of substituting a swashbuckling advertisement for political purposes. He has been a man of the shadows, and this is obvious from talking to the ordinary citizens. Is the victor always the loser? In the case of Mr. Hebrun, it is a politician who has been a politician for the last 10 years of his life.

The public has never forgotten this. He has been a politician for the last 10 years of his life. He has been a politician for the last 10 years of his life. He has been a politician for the last 10 years of his life.

Secondly, the general opinion of Mr. Hebrun's silence, where it lies, is to find it in a—mercenary, timorous, inconsistent, outspoken, stubborn. His speech has always been a device to immediate issues that his opponent has put into the air, and with reason, of substituting a swashbuckling advertisement for political purposes. that it had not done anything. These people expected of a Tory and the Commons. Whatever else could be said, elections were never dull. There is an air of authority in the voice of the speaker. During the past few years we have heard the expression many times of "It went to the bottom."

Therefore the experiments and discoveries of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution are of great importance to the world.

The dominant role played by the CIO in the CCF in Ontario is certainly a fact. The CIO is certainly a fact. The CIO is certainly a fact. The CIO is certainly a fact.

SULPHURIC ACID

Barometer of Business

SUCH is the importance of Sulphuric Acid to the many industrial processes now being carried on in Canada that the monthly record of its production could well be used as a barometer of the rise and fall of business.

Sulphuric Acid is extensively used in steel mills, foundries and similar plants whose volume of production is governed by the demands of construction, ship building, transportation and the engineering trades. These are the basic industries and their progress parallels the general trade statistics of the Dominion.

Another important use of Sulphuric Acid is in the manufacture and maintenance of storage batteries for cars, tanks, radio equipment and certain marine engines.

While Sulphuric Acid is only one of the many products of Canadian Industries Limited, it is an outstanding example of the way in which commercial chemistry is contributing to the life and progress of the Dominion.

Only Way Stop McWilliams

Is Not to Schedule Game

By RED GRANGE
The Original Man-in-Motion

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—There may possibly be better all-around backfield performers in the nation than Thomas McWilliams, but the backers of undefeated and untied Mississippi State will demand that you trot out substantiating facts and figures if you want a candidate to match Shorty.

Mississippi State's tailback, who stands five feet 10 and weighs 171 pounds, scored 10 touchdowns for 60 points to top Southeastern Conference touchdown makers. He scored two or more TD's in each of the four games played by the Maroons, and to prove that he goes for distance his scoring spats total 231 yards, averaging 25.

McWilliams carried from scrimmage 67 times in four games and rolled up 421 yards, an average of six-and-a-half. He returned six punts for 151 yards, averaging 25. He gained 10 times for an average of 45. This despite the fact that he kicked two short ones out-of-bounds against Louisiana State.

NOT ONE INTERCEPTION

McWilliams completed 37 of 113 passes for 317 yards, two going for touchdowns. Not one was intercepted.

Outside of running, kicking and passing, McWilliams calls "hail," plays a mean game on defense from safety. He is a fine pass defender and a great tackler.

At Meridian, Miss., high last year, McWilliams scored 20 touchdowns, passed for eight additional markers. Touchdown runs totaled 1,078 yards, averaging 26. He was named on Mississippi's All-Big Eight Conference team, was voted the outstanding player in the state by sports writers, and chosen on the 1963 All-Southern prep squad.

Following Mississippi State's 13-0 victory over Louisiana State, in which McWilliams scored six touchdowns, passed for 175 yards and kicked three extra points, LSU coach, said: "The only way to stop McWilliams is not to schedule Mississippi State."

McWilliams wrecked our defense.

MARVELOUS, SAYS MEHRE

Harry Mehre, Mississippi coach after watching the Maroons beat Arkansas A & M, a Navy-Marine powered team, used only one word in describing McWilliams. "Marvelous," he said.

It is improbable that the Maroons can win all their remaining games, since during November they play Kentucky, Auburn, Alabama and Mississippi, all high hurdles for Mississippi State to get over before it could entertain any idea of a Southeastern Conference championship.

George Oshawa
Time's Gazette
"Campbell relates the story of Frank Long, who, with St. Catharines, played a professional contract with Providence Reds of the American League this year. Long, it seems, wants Providence to tear up his contract as he can play with Falcons again. Campbell says the reason is that the latter squad can offer him more moola than this pros."

Such an uncharitable attitude, Mr. Campbell!

Hamilton Hen
The good citizens of Hamilton, Ont., are taking their football very seriously this autumn. They before last week's game with Toronto Balm Beach, which Wildcats won 24, the ticket sale was brisk. The customers lined up for tickets as though they were after the ration on the last day of the month, and Walter McMillen of the Spectator said it was the first time a regular league game attracted such wide interest in Hamilton.

INCIDENTALLY:

Andy (Toronto Star) Lottie remarked recently that Frank Gravelle, Montreal white-tie-tooter, is the first French-Canadian to make the grade in the NHL. However, Mike Hodden of the Kingston Whig-Standard, himself one of the refereeing fraternity, points out that Joseph Dandridge, the late Bert Corbeau and Louis Berlinguette of Ottawa affiliated with success in the post. "Girl's hockey is looking up in Montreal, and prospects are good for renewal of activities by the female durnams and Richards of the metropolis."

Don Buddy Levitt is following in the footsteps of Daddy Charlie Levitt, former western Canada hockey and racehorse conditioner. Buddy has taken to the saddle now, and has shown up on United States tracks. . . In Vancouver they don't know whether the old auditorium will ring to the cheers of the crowd or the clang of machinery. The building is being vacated by Boeing Aircraft, but there are four bids in from business firms for its use as a factory. Four other bids are from sports organizations. . .

Masked Players

MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—After having suffered a broken jaw, Bob Davidson, courageous captain of Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League, reappeared wearing a mask to protect the injured jaw, which was not yet completely healed.

In other news, Ching Johnson, much-battered defence player of New York Rangers, used a mask to protect a jaw broken on both sides, and Clint Benedict, goalie of Montreal Maroons, did the same thing after sustaining a broken cheekbone.

MILLIONS OF BOOTS

CAPE TOWN.—(CP)—Prime Minister J. C. Smuts recently congratulated a Port Elizabeth firm on the production of its millionth pair of Army boots. South Africa's footwear industry has produced in the city 11,000,000 pairs of boots for the fighting services.

Boxer Claims Promised $300 To Throw Bout

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Edward Johnson (Teddy) Swain, 26-year-old Toronto boxer, said in police court Monday that at a meeting with three Toronto men he was promised $200 to $300 to throw a fight against Jimmy Rizzo last February.

He was testifying in charges against Lou Appleby, Orlie Bobkin and Max Kadon of conspiracy to defraud the public by losing bouts, which the plaintiff, not guilty. The case is expected to last several days.

Swain said he was employed as a sign painter at the Casino theatre of which Appleby is manager and that he met the three men in the theatre office. He said he was instructed to place bets on himself and accepted $10 from Bobkin to do this. He took a "diver" in the first round of the fight, and later received $225. He told his father about it and the latter took him to the Ontario Athletic Commission which suspended him.

Sports . . . Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Grand Prixes of Clinton, Ill., offers a prospectus of an amphibious post-war winter sports program which embraces ice skating, bobsled and bobsleds going down a race track at full speed.

Obviously Mr. Pollard has only the foggiest idea of modern bobsled racing. The program, as outlined, would leave few survivors. But in it he has one idea worth following up. . . that is that snow sports, just becoming popular in the United States when the war came along, offer big field in which employment can be created for returning soldiers.

When Challa-naga Joe Engel broached the subject of moving his northern association franchise to Miami to the league directors, he waited until they were together then entered the room luging a large potted palm and a bag of oranges. . . LEUT. Alf Vanderbilt, who left his racing for the navy, has been assigned to Hollywood as editor on a picture about P-T boats.

Dies of Wounds

VICTORIA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Mr. and Mrs. William Gibb, who came to Victoria recently from Fairview, Alta., have been advised that their son, Stanley A. Gibb, 23, died Oct. 27, of wounds received in action in Italy.

Hardy Goats

MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—The only goalies in the National Hockey League who played every game for their respective teams in the 1943-44 season, belonged, oddly, to the first and last-place teams. They are Bill Durnan, of Canadiens, the 1-4-3 team, and Vera McAnuly, of the New York Rangers, in last place.

Boston Bruins used five goalies during the season, a new National Hockey League record.

Mexico Is Highly Pleased

With New Racing Committee

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 7.—The appointment of three distinguished Mexican lawyers to the newly-formed International Relations Committee sponsored by the National Association of State Racing Commissioners, has met with popular approval in racing circles at the Hipodromo de las Americas. President Bruno Paglia was particularly pleased at the recognition given to Mexico.

In announcing the new committee which embraces Canada, Mexico and the United States, Eynold H. Williams, president of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners, named Silvano Barba Gonzalez, president of the National Racing Commission of Mexico; Pablo Macedo, president of the Jockey Club Mexicano, and Oscar Obregon, a member of the National Racing Commission.

The purpose of the new committee, Williams stated, is to further establish friendly relations with the race courses of other countries and to exchange helpful ideas.

Obregon represented Mexico at the last convention of the National Association in Chicago in July. At that time both Mexico and Canada made associate members. Others appointed to the International Relations Committee are George H. Payne, head of the California Horse Racing Board, chairman of the committee; James J. Jeffries of Toronto, president of the Incorporated Canadian Jockey Club; K. H. Marshall of Toronto, president of the Ontario Jockey Club; John Sloan of New York, former president of the National Association, and architect for the Hipodromo de las Americas; 1937 and 1938.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—(CP)—The Ottawa Greys don't feel as badly now about being called the "big money club" and similar epithets hurled at them by disinterested rivals. They feel sure now that filthy lucre has a part in the dealings of other.

George Oshawa, Time's Gazette, "Campbell relates the story of Frank Long, who, with St. Catharines, played a professional contract with Providence Reds of the American League this year. Long, it seems, wants Providence to tear up his contract as he can play with Falcons again. Campbell says the reason is that the latter squad can offer him more moola than this pros."

Such an uncharitable attitude, Mr. Campbell!

Hamilton Hen
The good citizens of Hamilton, Ont., are taking their football very seriously this autumn. They before last week's game with Toronto Balm Beach, which Wildcats won 24, the ticket sale was brisk. The customers lined up for tickets as though they were after the ration on the last day of the month, and Walter McMillen of the Spectator said it was the first time a regular league game attracted such wide interest in Hamilton.

INCIDENTALLY:

Andy (Toronto Star) Lottie remarked recently that Frank Gravelle, Montreal white-tie-tooter, is the first French-Canadian to make the grade in the NHL. However, Mike Hodden of the Kingston Whig-Standard, himself one of the refereeing fraternity, points out that Joseph Dandridge, the late Bert Corbeau and Louis Berlinguette of Ottawa affiliated with success in the post. "Girl's hockey is looking up in Montreal, and prospects are good for renewal of activities by the female durnams and Richards of the metropolis."

Don Buddy Levitt is following in the footsteps of Daddy Charlie Levitt, former western Canada hockey and racehorse conditioner. Buddy has taken to the saddle now, and has shown up on United States tracks. . . In Vancouver they don't know whether the old auditorium will ring to the cheers of the crowd or the clang of machinery. The building is being vacated by Boeing Aircraft, but there are four bids in from business firms for its use as a factory. Four other bids are from sports organizations. . .

Masked Players

MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—After having suffered a broken jaw, Bob Davidson, courageous captain of Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League, reappeared wearing a mask to protect the injured jaw, which was not yet completely healed.

In other news, Ching Johnson, much-battered defence player of New York Rangers, used a mask to protect a jaw broken on both sides, and Clint Benedict, goalie of Montreal Maroons, did the same thing after sustaining a broken cheekbone.

Bracken Again Calls on Govt. For Statement

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—John Bracken, National Progressive Conservative leader, in a statement last night called again for a statement from the government on the reinforcement situation and the reason for the resignation of Defence Minister Alexander

Goldwell of the GCF said last night that in view of the "unrest" caused by the resignation of C. J. L. Ralston as defence minister, Prime Minister Mackenzie King should summon parliament and make a statement on the question.

Mr. Bracken's statement follows: "The Canadian people are becoming more and more concerned with the excuseable delay in giving a statement on the vital question of reinforcement for our fighting men. The delay is causing mounting concern on all sides. Since the government ministers now are making public references to government policy the least the prime minister can do is give the Canadian people the simple truth devoid of all propaganda chat."

The issue is justice to our men overseas. The cabinet shuffles, has not added one man to their reinforcements. The people in ever-increasing numbers are coming to feel that the vital question is to remain a matter of political expediency. I repeat what I said four days ago, Mr. King or Col. Ralston, or both of them, owe the Canadian people a complete statement on the conditions of affairs that prompted the resignation of the senior minister of national defence.

I repeat what I said four days ago, Mr. King or Col. Ralston, or both of them, owe the Canadian people a complete statement on the conditions of affairs that prompted the resignation of the senior minister of national defence.

It is in the interest of the government of this country that the government should delay no longer in letting the people know the substance of Col. Ralston's report.

Burial was in the Lavo cemetery.

HARDISTY.—The Busy Bee gave a farewell party at the home of Mrs. Fred Olson in honor of Mrs. Tom Bell. A gift was presented to the guest of honor who has been a member of the group for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Bell are moving to Oids. At the halfway mark in the Seventh Victory Loan Hardisty had subscribed 28 per cent of its quota, 132 applications and $29,500. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Elsie Olson, chairman; A. Johnston, chairman; J. Crouch, vice-chairman and salesmen Miss M. McKinnell, R. J. Wright, S. W. Joad, C. Saville, the Rev. V. Cole and Alex Cameron.

The institute will hold its fall rally Nov. 10 to 12 with Dr. Robert Glover, FRCG, of Philadelphia, as guest speaker.

Students' Union Receives Budget

On Saturday morning the students of the University of Alberta gathered at the Convocation hall in hearing of the budget presented by Bill Clark, treasurer of the Students' Union. The budget to be followed this year is one of general economy. There was a marked increase in the position of students funds to be spent in athletics and a decrease in the position of students funds to be spent in the Student Union general fund.

The chief item which raised the cost of athletics this year was rugby. The amount spent this year on rugby was almost triple that of last year due to the expense of sending the rugby team to Saskatchewan for a game in which they won the Hardy trophy.

The total revenue for the year has been set at $110.00. The total expenditure has been estimated at $105.55. This leaves a small surplus of $4.45. This means that the various clubs will have to keep well within the bounds of their budget. However, in drawing up the budget very conservative figures were given, the estimated revenue from money-making functions such as the inter-year plays.

Your Baby And Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDERED

It behooves a parent to be extremely critical of any motives which might inspire her to keep her child away from company merely because their parents have different child-rearing ideas from her own.

She must be clear in her own mind that while she may have her self arguments, she also is denying the child wholesome, democratic experiences.

It should be pretty obvious that in a country where people can have differences of opinion and live up to them, they will do so. It is apparent that next door to you may live a woman who lets her children run wild and does it on the assumption that by so doing she encourages them to be self-reliant and independent.

This may not please the cautious mother of Sara who proclaims that it is her belief a mother must be responsible for her children's safety. But these differences should not make it necessary to prevent Sara from playing with these free spirits who will find that if they want her companionship they will have to temper their wanderings to her mother's limitations.

Mr. Brown may believe in early bedtime and be scornful of those children in the neighborhood who allow their children to stay up late hours. But he must not prevent her little Daniel from playing in daytime with children because they have the privilege of going to bed at any hour it suits their parents. The children, are the ones who are denied their rest, not the child who gets his.

It's folly to say that one has to do what the neighbors do. It is all too apparent they themselves do as they please. The careful, cautious, sheltering parent has the same privilege.

Children may as well learn in early childhood that people do not think alike. They have different manners, customs, religions, races and all the rest of it. But there is nothing alarming about a change in the order of things, out of the way of a day when he has to come face to face with such realities.

AN ANXIOUS MOTHER: It is true that the low tower, front porch usually is the first to appear. But there is nothing alarming about a change in the order of things, out of the way of a day when he has to come face to face with such realities.

Our leaflet, "Teeth," may be heard by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldered, in care of this newspaper.

This Not This

From the character or type of tissue composing the tonsils (both the ordinary visible tonsils and the third tonsil hidden from view up behind the soft palate—commonly known as "adenoids") the main purpose or function of the tonsils is guard or protect against invasion by disease germs.

Notifies, collection or patches of the same type of tissue that compose the tonsils (adenoid or lymphoid tissue)—a framework or network of connective tissue containing masses of round cells. Identical with the small white blood corpuscles occur in other parts of the body as well as in the tonsils—everies in the lymph nodes and glands, which when enlarged are known as "Peyer's plaques or patches, characteristic of the lymphoid tissue and in the red bone marrow throughout the body. There is even a ring of this same adenoid or lymphoid tissue around the base of the skull.

Wherever such adenoid or lymphoid tissue occurs its purpose or function is to guard against infection.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

More Important Than Wife Love the Most

Women Place More Importance on Love, and Therefore Matrimonially Speaking, Should Be the Adorer

A girl asks: "In marriage which should love the most, the husband or the wife?" The French have a proverb which says that in love one kisses and the other permits himself or herself to be kissed. This goes double for marriage and whether it is better to be the kisser of the spouse is a matter open to discussion.

There are two schools of thought on the subject. One contends that a man should be more in love with his wife than she is with him. The other school of thought is of life tend to separate him from her, whereas they serve to bring closer to him.

On the other hand, the opponents to this theory assert that it makes for domestic felicity for the wife to be the one who loves the most, because the woman who has gotten the man she wants is satisfied and happy. She sees no flaw in her partnership and she is contentedly burning incense at the feet of her little tin god.

TAKE THINGS FOR GRANTED After marriage, when a couple settles down to the ordinary run of domesticity, the average husband doesn't bother much about the state of either his affections or his wife's. He takes it for granted that he will still have her girlish dreams and so long as she is a good housekeeper and pleasant to get along with, everything is O.K. by him. He never wonders if his heart throbs are more frequent than hers and taking the temperature of her heart is a matter which he has cooled off or not.

But it is far otherwise with the woman. From the altar to the grave, the wife is preoccupied with her emotions. Her favorite diversion is extracting them and trying to determine whether her husband's emotions send her blood pressure up or just leave her cold.

WHY CHILDREN HAVE ENLARGED TONSILS

It is my opinion, and merely mine, for perhaps a majority of doctors do not share the view that enlargement of the tonsils is the great majority of cases physiological and normal state which calls for no treatment.

Recently I noticed how rarely an inquiry concerning a child came in from a mother who was twenty or thirty years ago a good many years ago. I have seen a child who I hope I inferred that maybe at last a little fresh air and exposure was getting to the children, but had a dozen mothers informed me that I was wrong about it, as their children and others in the neighborhood get group at the group of a barometer, thermometer or hat.

If I'm wrong in thinking and hoping that epidemic or so-called "catarrhal" group is much less frequent today than it was when I was a country doctor in upstate New York, I am sure that my present opinion that enlarged tonsils in children are generally normal. They're your kids, and this is a fact. You see, you ask me, "I believe enlarged tonsils and adenoids should be regarded as an indication that the child is reasonably capable of maintaining immunity to the colds, diphtheria, of course, that the enlargement does not seriously obstruct breathing, then the nose is impaired by enlarged tonsils or adenoids, then I say out with them. I received today's interesting hand from Jack Kuehner of Springfield, Mass. Jack has always been interested in promoting the TSP system bidding, and he is one of Springfield's outstanding players, and is quick to recognize a nice hand.

He failed to give me the bidding on the hand, yet you can see to get it not difficult for South to get a six-diamond contract. The opening lead was won in dummy with the ace of clubs, a club was trumped, diamond was led with the spade king and the heart finesse was taken. The ace of hearts was cashed and heart ruffed in dummy. Another club was trumped, diamond was led to lead into dummy's king-queen. South cashed his diamond ace, which left East with three trumps to the queen. A spade was led, throwing a diamond and forcing him to lead into dummy's king-queen.

As Jack points out, East could have defeated the contract by dropping his spade queen under the trick, but he was under-ruffing the fourth club. Then he could not be thrown in and would be bound to make a trump trick.

EDUCATING A PERSON WILL INCREASE THE BRAINPOWER OF HIS CHILDREN

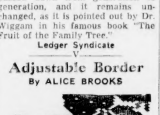

A blacksmith does not pass on to his son the strength he has achieved by a lifetime of using certain muscles. He passes on to his son only as good a set of muscles as he himself was born with. The same is true of intelligence. The same German scientist, Weiss, has proved that nothing we gain in life is inherited by our children. What we pass on to them are the same things our parents passed on to us. Only the germ plasm is passed down from generation to generation, and it remains unchanged. It is the same for the Vigan in his famous book, "The Fruit of the Family Tree."

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Many families are smaller this year because dad or the boys are away at war. So a fast roasting chicken will take the place in those homes of the traditional turkey.

Here's a new stuffing with rich poultry flavor. Also a light pumpkin pie everyone will welcome.

BRAN FLAKES STUFFING

One-third cup minced onion, 1/2 cup raisins, 1/2 cup bran flakes, 1/2 cup chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1/2 teaspoon Discharge gelatin in hot water. Combine egg yolks, milk, 1/2 cup sugar, salt, spices and nut meats in top of double boiler, mixing well. Cook over hot water until mixture coats spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Add pumpkin and gelatin and mix well. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until foamy; then add reserved mixture, beating until stiffly, and continue beating until stiff. Fold lightly into gelatin mixture.

age, 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1/2 cup dry bran flakes, 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 to 2 tablespoons hot water.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(AP)—One woman was killed last night in an explosion that shook a midtown New York apartment building.

Army Draftees To Get Only Pay of Rank

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—As a result of a program outlined last night by Defence Minister McNaughton, the men in Canada's home defence army will receive only the pay of their rank as long as they remain outside of active service ranks.

Under Gen. McNaughton's plan, the practice is to be changed so that active service personnel will be paid extra remuneration by working on construction projects or by helping to gather crops or by working in the mines and in the woods.

FANTASTIC SCALE

"I find that many of these men have been able to obtain remuneration on a scale which is quite fantastic and I do not doubt that those who seek their personal advantage and who have their chance to make large sums in cash would fail to come forward to volunteer for service overseas," said General McNaughton.

"I have issued instruction that the practice is to be changed so that active service personnel will be paid extra remuneration by working on construction projects or by helping to gather crops or by working in the mines and in the woods.

Coarse Grains

Feature Trade

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Domestic wheat and coarse grain sales featured trading today, on the Winnipeg exchange, with nearly 1,000,000 bushels traded during the session.

Eastern feeders took 500,000 bushels of low grade barley and some 100,000 bushels of low grade wheat for grinding, while shippers acquired 500,000 bushels of medium grade wheat for export to the United States, with the export market here via the St. Lawrence, taking a small lot of No. 2 Northern wheat.

With United States markets closed on election day, trading in the futures here was dull and dealings confined to scattered lots.

Recommended Policy General Says Army Raised On Basis of His Advice

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—The basis on which the Canadian army was raised "was decided by the government on my advice," Defence Minister McNaughton last night told a Canadian Legion meeting here.

Gen. McNaughton made the statement when asked by a veteran in the audience. Prime Minister Mackenzie King was continuing the voluntary enlistment system for the sake of "political expediency." The veteran, seated in the balcony of the National Museum lecture hall, identified himself as Mr. Taylor.

The general said the very fact that he had the responsibility he had today was because the prime minister had stuck to the advice "I would not have been here today if the fundamental basis which I believe with every atom of my being was not present," said the general.

QUESTIONS POPULARITY

Earlier, an unidentified veteran asked if the general's decision to continue the voluntary enlistment system was a popular decision in the right English-speaking provinces of Canada.

The defence minister said he had never been one who relied on popularity one way or the other. He said that in October, 1939, he had resigned himself to the impossibility of seeing service in the field and had turned his attention to getting munition production underway.

Shortly after, he was summoned by the government to form and lead the Canadian Army overseas. He was asked by the government to outline how the fundamental basis of organization should proceed.

VOLUNTARY SYSTEM

"I made it clear that we could carry out our effort to success if we based it on the voluntary system," said Gen. McNaughton.

He said he had had experience on which to base his observations. When he returned from the First Great War, Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian Army, "summoned me" to study the basis for the raising of forces of the future.

"That was early in 1919 and from that day to this I have never ceased to study the problem," he said.

During the peace years he had tried to keep alive, despite ridicule from many sides, a militia in Canada. He had tried to keep alive something that could be re-armed and rebuilt in time of danger when defence was needed.

Now Canada had a voluntary army overseas.

"I say if that army had been raised otherwise than by the voluntary method we would have had no

Sees No Value In Contributory Pensions Plan

Taking money out of one pocket and putting it into another does not increase purchasing power; and contributory pensions, where by the government takes a portion of a worker's earnings and later, when the worker reaches old age, gives the money back—this will cause a shortage of purchasing power and hasten the day of depression. So declared Hon. D. B. MacMillan, provincial minister of agriculture, at a gathering of members of the Alberta Pensioners' Society Monday evening.

The speaker, dealing with social security as his theme, spoke of the good work of the association and said the organization has been making a real contribution towards the progress of securing pensions. In order to advance this cause, he suggested, the organization should dwell on the nutrition end.

"There is no reason in a country that produces what this country does, that there should be a shortage of a proper diet. It is much cheaper to see everybody fed than to pay doctors and hospital bills after getting ill because of the lack of proper food," he averred.

NEED PROPER DIET

"There is no reason in a country that produces what this country does, that there should be a shortage of a proper diet. It is much cheaper to see everybody fed than to pay doctors and hospital bills after getting ill because of the lack of proper food," he averred.

Speaking from the angle of the primary producer—the farmer—MacMillan said: "There is no use in producing anything if it isn't going to be used by somebody. Someone must consume it."

"It is said there will be markets for years to come, but one thing is sure: We must see that everyone in Canada has good nutritious food."

"There are certain foods that everybody should have, with bread and vegetables being among the cheapest. Higher priced foods include meats, produce and fruits."

"The farmer is interested in the higher priced foods, and if he can get a local market for his meat, butter, eggs and poultry, he is on a fair way to success."

CAUSE OF DEPRESSION

The speaker said that if the purchasing power is taken from the consumer, goods will be left on the shelves. It was lack of purchasing power that caused the depression, and it was during the depression years that many people were improperly fed.

"A highlight of the evening was entertainment by the Ukrainian Orchestra and choral numbers were offered, under the direction of Edna Tarabash, with 23 pieces in the former, and 32 voices in the latter. Nancy Bielinski presented a dancing turn and Sylvia Quist (trough) gave several piano accordion numbers."

Edmund C. Fisher, president, Alberta Pensioners Society, was chairman.

Production Proved Southern Oil Well

A new chapter in Alberta oil development has been opened by an oil strike of commercial proportions in Devonian limestone in the Glenora area, according to provincial government officials here.

The strike is at Princess No. 1, 10 miles east of Glenora and just south of Steepleville. In the last four weeks the well has produced 4,524 barrels of oil, and production is estimated to be between 200 and 300 barrels a day.

Engineers of the California Standard and company have declared the well officially proven, producing crude oil of 34.5 degrees gravity.

Previously, oil found in Alberta was generally struck in Sturgeon limestone, found at a shallower depth than the Devonian formation. Oil in Devonian structure has been found at Ram wells in the Brazeau and Nordegg areas.

Provincial officials predict development of a large, profitable scale for the Glenora field, after proving of the Princess well. Fling activity in the district has been reported to be particularly active.

Electification Of Rural Areas Is Discussed

The speaker in the Know Alberta course at the adult classes Monday at Garneau school was Professor Andrew Stewart. His subject was on rural electrification.

"Alberta possesses," he said "ample resources for power development. There is already a well developed system of generating stations and transmission lines serving a large part of the province. However, only about 100 out of 1000 rural areas are supplied with central station power. The main reasons for this are the heavy cost of line construction per mile, the irregularity of farm income and the small consumption of power. This year three test areas are being built by the power companies to serve farm customers. These experiments and investigations are being made by the Alberta Power Commission. They should help in the development of a program of extending power for Alberta farms."

Those enrolled in the Home Building course were given the particulars on how specifications and estimates are made. The subject was introduced by George Prossman, contractor, who then explained in practical terms how specifications and estimates are drawn up.

The act in its present form endorsed the principle of making available to fire-fighters enlisted for service in British Columbia, on the same scale as paid to men of the Canadian armed forces.
